2,249 Women Injured By Abortion File Brief at the Supreme Court for Reversal of *Roe v. Wade

2,249 Women hurt by their own abortions, have filed a brief at the U.S. Supreme Court asking the Court to reverse Roe v. Wade.

One of the most important reasons to reverse Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton is that abortion hurts women. The Supreme Court has recognized since 1992 that abortion causes “devastating psychological consequences” to women as stated by Planned Parenthood of Southeastern Pa. v. Casey, 505 U.S. 833 (1992), at page 882. Then in 2007, the Court recognized that “...some women come to regret aborting the infant life they once created and sustained.” “Severe depression and loss of esteem can follow.” Gonzales v. Carhart, 550 U.S. 124 (2007), at page 160. The Supreme Court has admitted that abortion hurts women.

Now abortion is no longer necessary to give women freedom from unwanted children.

The second major reason the Women Injured By Abortion advocate for reversing Roe v. Wade is that there is a better alternative to abortion through state Safe Haven laws. If abortion were outlawed today, no woman in America would have to provide parenting and provision for a child, unless they wanted to do so.

Under the Safe Haven Laws in all 50 states, a woman can relinquish her baby to the state at a fire station, hospital or other safe place, within a set period of time after birth. See www.nationalsafehavenalliance.org. There is no legal procedure involved and it is totally free to the woman. In exchange for a few months of pregnancy, all 50 states will release her from 18 years of legal obligation and parental duties.

Through the compassionate alternative of Safe Haven laws, states will release the birth mothers (who choose to release their baby through Safe Haven) from 18 years of legal obligation and parental duties. Women now have the freedom to move on with their lives, without taking the life of the baby and injuring themselves.
